SUBJECT: Vending Machines

I have discussed maintaining some vending machines (those in the back) during the winter with George Lang, who says that they will be happy to provide coffee, soups, ice cream and soft drinks at cost. That is, RA will not attempt to profit by the transaction but that we underwrite any losses.

Lang seems to think that one man could handle the machines, and I agree with him.

I don't know what you had planned to do about the 50 or 60 people who will be here this winter, but I certainly think we should make some foods available, especially in view of the parking problems.

Shall I pursue the matter further with Lang?

SUBJECT: Vending Cafeteria Maintenance Area

In a discussion with Mr. Klepper of Restaurant Associates relative to the above, he agrees with our decision to discontinue this service during the winter months, particularly in this area. However, in the event this decision is reversed, they will be happy to operate two of these machines (coffee and cigarettes) at cost.

There is a possibility that RA will operate the Missouri Pavilion during the winter months, pending a decision from the World's Fair Corporation.

Mr. Lang will keep you informed.
