A model for modern Boy Scouts is this little cave boy, rubbing sticks together to create fire in a primitive cave scene along Ford Motor Company's "Magic Skyway" ride at the New York World's Fair. His father watches, no doubt giving the little fellow a lecture on fire safety at the same time.

Possibly the world's first cookout is immortalized in this scene along Ford Motor Company's "Magic Skyway" at the New York World's Fair. In a primitive cave, mother and daughter turn a roast over log fire in lifelike animation by Walt Disney's WED Enterprises Inc. Millions of fairgoers have seen the show, riding past in new Ford-built convertibles.
